Gospel Reflection
The Third Sunday of Ordinary Time, Cycle C
Luke 1:1-4; 4:14-21

The first two weeks of Ordinary Time highlight the purpose of the journey — where we are headed and why. Last Sunday, we heard the story of the wedding at Cana, “the beginning of his signs.” A narrative so rich and filled with truth, it ultimately serves as a sign pointing to the messianic fulfillment that Jesus will bring about in himself — fulfillment, as John later saw, depicted as a wedding feast. Here, it seems, the church wants to remind us of the apocalyptic significance of this journey with Jesus that we have just begun.

This Sunday’s Gospel reading from Luke begins with the first few verses of chapter one, setting the stage for what we’ll hear as a beginning. Then, the reading shifts to chapter four, telling the story of Jesus in the synagogue at Nazareth. He receives a scroll and reads from it, sharing words of Isaiah about “glad tidings to the poor” and “liberty to captives.” He proclaims, “The Spirit of the Lord is upon me because he has anointed me,” and concludes with, “Today this Scripture passage is fulfilled in your midst.” Here, the church, it seems, wants to remind us of the moral point of this journey with Jesus we’ve just begun. Not only does this journey lead to mystical union, to the wedding banquet of the Lamb, it also leads to justice, to jubilee.

There is scholarly debate about whether Jesus is indeed calling for a jubilee in the sense of Leviticus 25; I believe he is. Jesus at least points to that great vision of the people of God established in justice, to that pristine vision found in Deuteronomy 15:4 (“But there will be no poor among you...”) and which Luke recounts in Acts 4:32-35, where he describes the solidarity of the first Christians. This, the church seems to be saying, is where Jesus is taking us. We are following him to the wedding supper, to the heavenly Jerusalem and to the truly just kingdom of God. That’s what the journey is about; all these stories from Jesus’ life and ministry, which the church will share with us in the coming weeks, are meant ultimately to carry us toward mystery and justice.

Following Jesus is intended to guide us to heaven, and it’s also meant to guide the least of our brothers and sisters there as well. That’s why I believe the church begins Ordinary Time with these two stories from John and Luke; they help us prepare for the journey when we know where we’re headed going. So, the questions then are these: Is this where you want to go? Is this why you’re following Jesus? The church is telling us that the point of following Christ, the end point of the journey, is mystical and moral. The challenge then is to order our spiritual and ethical lives to this mystical and moral end.

How, for instance, is our spiritual life ordered in relation to the mystery signified at Cana? Do we simply pray for the things we desire? Is our spirituality self-centered? Or does our prayer also encompass times of simple communion, of just being with the Lord—prayer that is truly a longing for God in heaven? How is our ethical life ordered as well? Is it directed towards justice? Do we strive to make the world morally acceptable, not just for ourselves but also for the Lord? In other words, do we care for the poor and the oppressed? Do we assist them? Do we recognize that this is just as integral to being Catholic as well anything? It’s all offered as fair warning. This is what following Jesus is about: mystical and moral perfection. Are you okay with that? Do you want to continue? Do you want to keep going? The journey will not be easy. It will involve suffering and death, suffering for others, even for enemies. Are you ready to go? That’s what God, I think, wants to know. What only you can answer as you keep walking with him.

"I CAN WALK BAREFOOT ON THE BEACH AGAIN"

Local acupuncture clinic is treating the untreatable, peripheral neuropathy with incredible results!

Pain comes in many shapes and sizes. One of the most debilitating being the burning and tingling that comes with peripheral neuropathy. A disease that comes with years of shooting, stabbing pain that gradually ends in numbness, balance problems, and on occasion, amputations. A disease that was once classified as irreparable.

David R. of Venice, FL was facing such a fate.

"I stopped golfing. I wasn't taking walks on the beach with my wife. I was living on gabapentin and antidepressants and everywhere I went; my doctor, the specialists, the pain institute, told me there was no cure. How are you supposed to live your life knowing that everyday brings pain and suffering?"

Peripheral neuropathy is a result of damage to the nerves, commonly caused by a lack of blood flow to the nerves in the hands and feet.

This causes the nerves to begin to degenerate due to lack of nutrient flow.

Most peripheral neuropathy sufferers experience a heightened sensitivity to touch making it almost impossible for those diagnosed to even wear shoes, much less enjoy life.

"It was like walking on sharp river rocks. I barely left my recliner." shares David, whose experience is not uncommon for those diagnosed with peripheral neuropathy.

That is until he found Lauren Milligan of Sage Point Acupuncture & Integrative Medicine. Dr. Milligan and her staff have pioneered a cutting edge, medical solution to treat neuropathy, eliminate or greatly reduce its symptoms and give people their lives back. Best of all, they're doing it without the use of prescription medications and invasive surgeries.

"Acupuncture is incredible at restoring blood flow and stimulating damaged nerves, preventing them from dying off," tells Dr. Milligan. "We take our treatments a step further by integrating ATP Resonance BioTherapy which targets specific nerves in the body using microcurrent. ATP therapy is like watering a plant. This treatment will stimulate the blood vessels to grow back around the peripheral nerves and provide them with the proper nutrients to heal and repair."

Three months later David is thrilled with his progress, "I can walk barefoot on the beach again!"

Success stories like David's are not atypical for the staff at Sage Point AIM. "We have a 87% success rate in treating neuropathy," shares Dr. Milligan.

The number of treatments needed to allow the nerves to fully recover will vary from person to person and can only be determined after a detailed neurological and vascular evaluation. So long as you have not sustained more than 90% nerve damage Sage Point AIM offers hope where there once was none.

While David's peripheral neuropathy was idiopathic, meaning the cause is unknown, Dr. Milligan's treatments can also help people whose neuropathy is caused by diabetes or chemotherapy.

"We have seen tremendous success in treating neuropathy of all types through very personalized treatments, specifically tailored to treat each individual case."

To schedule a consultation and complete evaluation call (941) 451-8154 but do so quickly because Sage Point AIM is taking a limited number of new neuropathy patients.

For more information and to take advantage of their new patient offer visit SagePointAcu.com.
